Old Fashioned Fair and Barbecue

ST. ROSE OF LIMA ANNUAL CHICKEN BARBECUE

A date to remember - Sunday, June 24th! On that day Saint Rose of Lima Church in Rochester will hold its annual Chicken Barbecue and Country Fair to which everyone is invited. It is an opportunity to experience a real, old-fashioned Country Fair.

In addition to the always delicious, complete chicken dinner prepared by the crew in the barbecue pit, there will be a Craft Fair; a Flea Market; entertainment throughout the afternoon; games and a clown and painted faces for the children; and so much more.

Again the Fair will feature a gigantic auction. The auctioneer will present for bid many varied items and services donated by area merchants and businessmen.

The hours to remember in addition to the date are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the Country Fair. The Chicken Barbecue dinner will be served from 12 to 3 p.m. The menu consists of barbecued chicken, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce, a roll and butter, watermelon, and coffee or a cold drink. Beer and wine will be sold throughout the day. Admission to the Fair is free, and tickets for the Barbecue may be obtained by contacting the church or any of its parishioners or may be purchased at the door. Saint Rose of Lima is located just off Route 105 in Rochester. Come and enjoy a day of family entertainment.

Selectmen's Meeting

JUNE 12, 1984 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL
POLICE DEPARTMENT- 1 RESIGNS, 1 APPOINTED

Mattapoisett Selectmen last Tuesday appointed Kevin E. Paulson as a part-time police officer, at the recommendation of Police Chief James Moran.

A resident of 40 Harvard Street, Fairhaven, Paulson is an EMT, holds a CPR card and is taking a Criminal Justice Course at Bristol Community College. Chairman John N. DeCosta expressed pleasure on behalf of the board to have a new man with such an experienced background.

Paulson will replace Officer Paul W. Fluegel, who has resigned to accept a job on the Nashua, New Hampshire Police Department. The board will send a letter to Fluegel thanking him for his dedicated service the past year.

In other business, Selectmen:

AUTHORIZED Executive Secretary Carol Adams to contact Arthur Thompson, Marion civil engineer, to prepare the necessary plans for the proposed Hi-Tech Park.

Selectman James F. Huntoon said, "We are looking for plans to scale that show how the site relates to Route 6, North Street and Route 195." The board also would like to have a topographical map showing the contours of the land, the number of parcels on the 200-acre site and the location and number of abutter parcels.

AGREED to ask dog officer Joseph G. Caton to keep the board advised if there are any more problems with dogs running in packs in Tinkham Forest.

Caton asked Selectmen to place signs at Tinkham Forest regarding loose dogs. He informed the board that a woodcutter said he was chased by a "pack of dogs". The dog officer also said Center School students observed dogs in the area; however, there were no problems reported.

WERE NOTIFIED by Lt. Mary Jane Rimmer-Doherty that the First Responder Course has been successfully completed at the Mattapoisett Fire Department.

Chairman DeCosta commented on the "super job Lt. Doherty has done in seeing that this course was completed".

WERE INFORMED by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission (ABCC) that Selectmen must hold a hearing on the license of the Village Package Store on County Road and must follow the same procedure as if the application were new.

The board agreed to review the matter with Town Counsel before taking further action as this particular license was obtained through special state legislation.

WILL REFER the request of ORR Assistant Superintendent of Schools James Pasquill seeking the board's help in requiring American Cablesystems to provide service communications between all schools in the ORR School District to the Mattapoisett School Committee for their opinion and to Eric Schultz of the cable company as to his feelings on the computer-line hookup.

RECEIVED a request from Richard Wenstrom of Ellsworth, Maine who is seeking the town's permission to utilize the old railroad bed as a right-of-way to his land off Park Street.

The request will be checked with Town Clerk Lois Ennis, Chairman DeCosta said. He explained that "from maps of the area it appears Wenstrom has a right-of-way he can use to his land". It just needs cleaning out, he added.

DeCosta said a previous request made by Purnell "Joe" Guard was denied. The reasoning is that the old railroad bed may be used someday by the town for sewerage lines, if

Bear Room at Center School

During this last week of school the children in grades K-3 at Center School visited an unusual classroom - The Bear Room - and it was anyting but bare! One step into the room led the children on a journey around the world and out of it, into the make-believe dreams of "care-bear land" and the storybook land of Goldilocks and the Three Bears.

Since February, Mrs. Ruth Bates (replacement for Mrs. Jean Conlon), L.I.F.T. Aide (Learning Incentives for the Talented) at Center and Old Hammondtown Schools, has been working two and one-half days a week with small groups of students on projects with the children selected and created after brainstorming the central topic and theme - "Bears in Fact and Fiction".

The afternoon kindergarten classes of Mrs. Constance Pallatroni and Mr. William Spark presented their very own book of fiction, Happy Needs Help, complete with vibrant illustrations and a riveting storyline. The book, which is dedicated to their teachers and principal, will be housed in the school library for all to borrow.

Also, read aloud and on display in the Bear Room was a fine book of non-fiction entitled The Bear Facts, written and illustrated by nine first graders, who researched books, magazines and newspapers for true information on all types of bears. This engrossing book, too, will be avail-

A group of second graders assisted the first grade students with the editing, lay-out and publishing of Center's School's first Bear Facts Newspaper, complete with advertisements and funny pages. These same second grade students researched their own topic, Where Bears Live, a world view of where all the species of bears can presently be found. They produced a panoramic mural of maps covering one entire wall of the Bear Room. This same group of children generated the schoolwide interest in bears and the bear projects which were going on in L.I.F.T. by postering the walls of Center School with "I wonder" questions.

The third grade students conducted interviews with the zookeeper at Buttonwood Park, Ms. Karen McAfee, and with one of the zoo veterinarians, Dr. Robert Tremblay. On a

30 YEARS EXPERIENCE 758-2455 LICENSED MEN

A second group of third grade students made the Bear Room "awesome". These children drew life-sized bears of all species, first using the overhead projector and then copying their bear images onto huge and colorful posters. They then taped them to the massive windows in the room and the sunlight seemed to breathe life into them.

And, finally, all the children took part in some way or another in the creation of a life-sized Goldilocks and the Three Bears House. Hopefully the storybook house will be the environmental seed that grows new L.I.F.T. creations next year, as it is a marvelous place to play-act and dream impossible dreams.

An additional feature in this room of talent was an electrical display constructed by an early enthusiast for comprehending the magnificence of electrical current. Sean Perry, a grade two student, gave an informative and very interesting presentation on electricity.

field trip to Buttonwood Park, these children discovered many interested facts about the park bears, Suzie, Thunder and Mike; and from their visit with Dr. Tremblay, they learned the intricacies and difficulties of working with zoo animals. The students put all of their collected information together for the Bear Room presentation and created a T.V. News Magazine show, complete with a "Polar Cola" commercial.

4th Grade Helps Emily

Mrs. Blanchette's 4th grade class earned $135. profit for Emily's new home by selling lemonade. They sold it at the mini-Olympics. Some kids made a flyer and made 325 copies of it. Other kids made an elephant shaped table. Some kids made sandwiches and walked around the school advertising. Some people wrote and did commercials on our P.A. system, and others made a poster. Every kid had a chance to sell lemonade. They called the pink lemonade Emma-aid.

Democratic Town Committee

The Mattapoisett Democratic Town Committee held its quarterly meeting June 11th in the Town Hall at 7:00 p.m.

John N. DeCosta gave the treasurer's report and also told the members that the direct mail fund-raising project to raise the money needed to carry on a successful program was doing well.

The Mattapoisett delegates to the State Convention, held in Worcester June 8th and 9th, reported on their experiences and other activities that took place during the 2-day affair.

Committee plans for election '84 were discussed and it was voted to form a sub-committee to conduct a voter registration drive in Mattapoisett during July and August. The committee will consist of William and Constance Keavy, M. Patricia Bernard, Joan Louden-Black, John N. DeCosta, Bernard Talty and Barbara J. Sawyer.

Dan Daly, Selectman from Carver, was introduced to the members by Selectman John N. DeCosta. Dan is a candidate for election to the Plymouth County Commissioners in the Democratic Primary, September 19th. Jack DeCosta pointed out that the southern half of Plymouth County needs representation and it would be helpful to Mattapoisett to elect a candidate from this area, such as Dan Daly, to represent the towns in our end of the County.

Mr. Daly reported to the group that County government is being phased out by the State. Slowly, the functions of the County are being assumed by State government. If the County is to survive it must become a more vital resource to the communities it serves. It must offer local governments a less costly option for providing services. Mr. Daly believes that voluntary regionalization of services can assist communities combat the limitations of Proposition 2½.

The next meeting of the full committee is

ZEITERION HOSTS 5th DIMENSION

The Zeiterion Theatre will be soaring "Up, Up and Away" on Friday, June 29th, and Saturday, June 30th, as the internationally famous musical group, The 5th Dimension, stage two exhilarating performances in their only New England appearance this summer.

Winner of 14 gold records and highly acclaimed as one of the most accomplished acts in popular music, the group has repeatedly risen to the top of the charts with such hits as Up, Up and Away, One Less Bell to Answer, Wedding Bell Blues, Stoned Soul Picnic, and Aquarious/Let the Sun Shine In.

Lead singer Florence LaRue's kinetic energy has been attributed to much of the group's continued success. Dynamic on and off the stage, LaRue's performances hail reviews from critics bubbling with praises such as "packed with full-fledged red-hot snap", "dynamite", and "filled with champagne soul".

The group headlines in both Las Vegas and Atlantic City regularly, and tour extensively throughout Europe and the Orient. On stage over 40 weeks a year, The 5th Dimension has continued to appeal to a wide audience with their easy listening music packed with top flight tempo.

Group members Lamonte Mclemore, Ron Townson, Michael Proctor and Joyce Wright, led by Florence LaRue, will bring a new excitement in sound to southeastern Massachusetts.

theatre into the hearts of children is one of the greatest joys I've experienced", states Dan Kirsch, Managing Director of the Zeiterion.

Starting off the season on July 11 will be Aesop's Fables presented by the colorful Poko Puppets. Director Larry Engler brings these infamous fables to life through his traveling cast of professional puppeteers. On July 18th a summer magic show with Lyn & Ken takes to the stage with a spellbinding magical performance entitled Abracadabra! From appearing and disappearing snow-white doves to slicing a lady into thirds, each performance is a carefully polished combination of audience participation and choreographed illusion. On July 25th The Traveling Playhouse under the direction of Kay and Ken Rockefeller will present Peter Pan and Wendy. Staying close to playwright James M. Barrie's perceptions, the performance captures a child's view of the world through believable characters with vivid imaginations.

Starting the August performance will be The Adventures of Peter Rabbit on August 1st, performed by the Gingerbread Players and Jack. The New York based company has staged many productions at the Zeiterion and has become a favorite among young theatre goers. The Gingerbread Players and Jack will continue the series with the colorful performances of The Wizard of Oz on August 8th, The Princess and the Frog on August 15th, and The Beauty and the Beast on August 22nd. Winding up the series will be the Traveling Playhouse production of Jack and the Beanstalk on August 29th.

A subscription to the summer children's series of eight performances is $18.00 for reserved seats. Individual tickets are available for $3.00 in advance, and $3.50 at the door. Tickets are now available at the Zeiterion Theatre Box Office, or call 994-2900 for tickets or a series brochure.

BRIGHTON BEACH SIMON STYLE
AT BOSTON'S COLONIAL

"Brighton Beach-Memoirs" does not recollect with clarity. Something goes off track in Neil Simon's attempt to bring nostalgia to life in the late 1930's. Any of us who grew up in Brooklyn as I did became conscious at a young age of the fierceness of economic and scholastic competition, and the horror of the holocaust. We were not taught in our education to treat life's situations with pseudo-romantic euphoria which this Simon play wallows in. Unlike John Van-Druten's earlier recollection, "I Remember Mama", the element of heart is reached for but missing; and Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" has true lyricism and wit.

In "Memoirs" the audience is given clever, format one liners on breasts, peaches, spaghetti and liver, etc., and a whole boy's bedroom scene on adolescent masturbation which lacks wit and is neither tasteful or funny. Like a T.V. situation comedy with canned laughter, at times, it seemed that it was being pumped in behind me at the packed Colonial Theatre, as people where I was seated were not or only slightly amused.

Joan Copeland, playwright Arthur Miller's sister, caught the ethics and often seemed embarrassed by the loud Jerry Lewis-like upstaging of young Jonathan Silverman as Eugene. Ms. Copeland is an accomplished actress, obviously doing this vehicle for the bucks and glamor of starring. While Charles Cioffi missed the necessary jewishness, he too tried to act with what he was given by Simon in the way of character. Mark Nelson had a certain authentic straightforwardness and flair as the older brother, Stanley.

Selecting Blanche, Stanley and Eugene as persona, Simon certainly was indebted to recent American playwrights. The first act was painfully slow. Microphones were turned on after the first five or six minutes when it was clear the actors could not project with ease into the large theater. Upstage arms that director Gene Saks did not work out evaporated into a few moments of pleasure, particularly when Father and Son discuss principles versus a job in the depression.

But Clifford Odets in "Awake and Sing" and Arthur Miller, even when he's been mercilessly criticized, have done it all so much more meaningfully, honest and with theatrical skill. One need not be programmed into becoming a Simonite through communications, rather question do we want patterned dishonesty to be the memory of the last ¼ of our century's theater history. "Brighton Beach Memoirs" won the 1983 New York Drama Critics' Circle Award. How painful this is to the memory of Aristophanes.

the burned and crippled children in Shrine hospitals. Each ticket purchased goes to support Shrine hospitals, so young patients up to age 18 can be treated completely free of charge. The Game's motto is "Strong legs run so weak legs can walk".

The family fun begins with a "bring your own" tailgate picnic at 4 p.m. in the stadium parking lot. It continues with special pre-game activities beginning at 6:30 p.m. which features the famous Shriners clowns and bands - the Oriental Band, the Bagpipe Band, the Arab Patrol and the Minuteman Marching Band. Curry College head football coach John Doherty will then lead the national anthem accompanied by the Aleppo Brass Band under the direction of Walter Smith.

The game excitement kicks off at 7 p.m. when the players on the Shriners North and South squads face each other in a tough contest that will decide which coach's winning streak will remain intact.

Both Tom Lamb of Natick, South's Head Coach, and North Head Coach Bob DeFelice of Winthrop are entering the game with unbroken winning streaks - Lamb with 23 and two Division I Super Bowls, DeFelice with 33.

Players in the Classic are chosen from league all-star or newspaper all-scholastic rosters by the Massachusetts High School Football Coaches Association, who, with the Shriners of Aleppo Temple in Wilmington, co-sponsor the game.

Ed Johnston, Past Potentate of Aleppo Temple, co-founder of the game with Jim O'Connor, and this year's general chairman, welcomes corporate sponsors of this year's Classic: Converse, Inc., for the fifth year in a row; Sweetheart Plastics, subsidiary of Maryland Cup Corporation and Coco-Cola Bottling Company of New England for the second year; and John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company coming aboard as a sponsor this year.

Game tickets, at $4. for adults and $3. for students are available at the gate or at the Shriners Auditorium (Exit 13 off I-93), Wilmington. For more information on the

to assist visitors with the new exhibits, assuring that visitors will get the most from the new projects.

Summer Celebration festivities actually begin Saturday, June 30th, at noon, when a brass band (to be announced) will play under the beautiful shade trees on the Museum grounds. Visitors are invited to bring a lunch and make a picnic of it.

Short science demonstrations by Museum staff will be conducted throughout the day on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the band concert. Among the scheduled programs are appearances by the Museum's cast of live animal characters: Freddie Farmer, Balboa the Boa Constrictor, Agnes and Louise (Guinea Pigs), Kid the Bunny and Terry Tarantula. All are handleable.

On Sunday, July 1st, Summer Celebration swings into high gear. The Museum will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. rather than the usual 1 to 5 p.m. The new second floor exhibit areas will of course be open for your participation throughout the day.

The entertainment schedule for July 1 is as follows:

1:00 p.m. - Puppet Parade orientation for adults and older children.

1:30 p.m. - Puppet Parade on Museum grounds and a ride in costumes on a Dartmouth Fire truck into Padanaram.

2:30 p.m. - Performance by New Kingdom Puppet Theater.

1 to 4 p.m. - Performance of olde English country songs and dances by the Newtowne Morris Dancers.

Major funding for the puppeteering company and dance troupe is being provided by a grant from the Dartmouth Arts Council.

Admissions are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children ages 3 through 12, and for persons 60 and older. An immediate family however pays no more than the $5. maximum family fee. Group rates are also available. During July and August the Museum is offering membership discounts - admissions fees will count towards family and individual memberships, $20 and $12. annually, respectively.

The Children's Museum is located at 276 Gulf Road in South Dartmouth.

The Children's Museum is grateful to the Dartmouth Arts Council for its continuing support.

The works featured in the show are all award winners in Nikon Instruments Division's Annual International Competition. The Competition was open to anyone with an interest in scientific or industrial photography through the microscope. Subject matter was unrestricted and all techniques were acceptable. The only requirement was that total magnification fall between 20x and 2000x. Entries were judged on the basis of informational content, composition, color balance, color contrast and originality.

Perhaps the most unique entry is that of an antique 19th century microscope slide featuring a crown made from mounted butterfly scales and diatoms. It must truly be seen to be believed.

The exhibit will be at the Children's Museum during June and July.

NEW CLIMB-ON SCULPTURE HOT ITEM AT MUSEUM

Joining the Antique Fire Engine and the Giant Sand Box as outdoor child pleasers, the Children's Museum of Dartmouth has added a wooden climb-on sculpture that children have found irresistible. The ruggedly constructed apparatus has a slide, rope webbing and wooden bars and rods that challenge youngster's physically. The creative piece of playground equipment was the brainchild of a Southeastern Massachusetts University student who designed and built the piece for a sculpture class.
